TO THE GRADS OF 79/80

"Be Proud of Your Job..."

The letter below was written by C.R. Vance of Princeton, Illinois to his daughter Jill on learning that she had signed a contract to teach.

Dear Jill:

Mom just called me from home and told me the good news that you had been offered a teaching contract for next year. I never doubted that you would have job offers and good ones.

This will be your first job, and I'm more that a little proud that you will be in a situation where you will have an opportunity to influence the developing minds of many people. Surely you must also be proud, happy and eager to start on this exciting experience. Good luck!

As you embark on this career there are a few words of advice I would like to give to you. They come free and may be worth no more than the cost. In that case nothing will be lost by reading them. If they happen to make some sense then maybe you will gain a little by heeding them.

In this day and age some of the old-fashioned philosophies about work and responsibility seem to have been forgotten, but there are a few do's and don'ts that I think are still pretty worthwhile:

Do your job every day so that you would be satisfied if you were the boss.

Do your job every day so that you are satisfied with yourself.

Don't be afraid to put in a little overtime today; you will feel better if you have to ask for a little time off tomorrow.

Help the associate who may be having a hard time, but don't be condescending.

Be patient with the boss; he may still learn.

Don't forget, a job used to be a privilege and it may again become one.

You influence students by the way you act as well as by the way you teach.

Remember that some of the methods you learned in class may have been theory and not proven in the field. (You are now in the field.)

There is no substitue for, and there is no short-cut to experience.

Be patient with slow learners. You did not always get it the first time around.

Don't be afraid to admit you are wrong or that you may have made a mistake. Always be confident in yourself, however, because you have prepared yourself well for the encounter. There will be less admissions of error necessary.

Don't be afraid to innovate but learn the difference between innovation and experimentation. (You may also sometimes want to experiment.)

Be proud of your job and try always to find and see the reasons to be proud of your institution. (Try to cure the things that discourage pride.)

There is one other that I cannot claim authorship of: It goes... "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

I have every confidence in the world that you would have done wonderfully well at whatever you undertook to do if this letter had never been written. If you had been here I might have said these things to you one at a time. Listed, they look pretty formidable, but you will not go wrong to remember them. My blessing goes with you in everything you do.

Love,
Dad.

FACULTY OF EDUCATION

THE DEANS MESSAGE

One of the conclusions of the International Conference on Education held in Geneva in 1975 was that, "for teachers now entering the school system it should be accepted that teacher education is, in fact, a continuous or recurrent process of which pre-service education is only the initial phase." In part this perspective is based upon the realization that the teacher's role is far more complex today than ever before. Acknowledgment of this complexity leads, in turn, to the conclusion that initial preparatory programs for teachers are unable to provide all the knowledge and skill development which future teachers will need for the duration of their professional careers.

The members of this year's graduating class are, therefore, to be considered as "beginning" teachers. Their early years will be a time of rapid learning and adaptation to ensure survival and satisfaction. Subsequently, like other professionals in our society, they will need to keep abreast of new developments in knowledge and skill areas, maintain their enthusiasm for the service they render and heighten their effectiveness in providing that service.

The aim of the Bachelor of Education program is to prepare students for these twin tasks of survival and growth. We hope we have succeeded, and that each graduate will have a personally satisfying and professionally rewarding career.

Yours sincerely,

W. H. Worth, Dean

THANK YOU:

The E.S.A. wishes to thank Steward Hardy and Dr. Brown For all the aid that they have given us over the past year. Without their help and expertise we would never have accomplished all the goals that we did. We wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors.

SPECIAL THANKS TO:

The E.S.A. wishes to extent it's sincere thanks to the staff whose help in the past year has proved to be invaluable. We are sorry that we did not get all their pictures in the yearbook but we want you to know that we appreciate all the help you have given us over the year.

DEUX VOIX

Une voix dit: "L'homme peut tout
S'il sait attiser son inteligence.
Tous les plombs scellés sur son ignorance
Le feu du savoir les dissout.

Maître de la terre, et maître des eaux,
Il force la dernière porte
Et l'air enfin cède et la porte,
Ailé, le plus fort de tous les oiseaux.

Mais rien ne satisfait ce roi;
C'est l'immensité qu'il veut pour domaine.
Il tente aujourd'hui l'oeuvre surhumaine,
L'oeil calme et l'âme sans effroi.

Dépassant Gama, Colomb, Magellan,
Il fait flotter ses fières voiles
Parmi l'inconnu des étoiles
Et mesure enfin l'astral océan."

Mais une autre voix murmura:
"Auriez-vous sondé toute la matière
Et du monde atteint l'ultime lumière,
La Nuit, qui la mesurera?..."

The Education Students' Association is an organization which exists to serve you -- the Education student. The E.S.A. formally represents you on several committees in both the Education Faculty and the University at large. We also represent you in the Students' Union and the Alberta Teachers' Association.

But what does the E.S.A. really do for you? In the office you can make photocopies and drink coffee, both at reduced rates. You can look through our mini-library of teaching materials and the Education exam registry. You can also buy Education souvenirs in the office. Once a month we put on socials so that you can relax with a beer! We co-ordinate Education Week including the "No Class Bash," and we sponsor the Graduation Formal.

Last but not least, the E.S.A. also produces this yearbook which we hope will be a lasting memory of your 1979-80 school year.

Thank you for supporting the E.S.A. this year, and best of luck in the future.

The friends we meet, the extras we participate in combine to form a basis to a whole new learning. A learning, equally as important as the academic. It is through these experiences we are moulded into individuals, able to socialize and experience a full life.

Schlaflied fur Mirjam

Schlaf mein Kind -- schlaf, es ist spät!
Sieh wie die Sonne zur Ruhe dort geht,
Hinter den Bergen stirbt sie im Rot.
Du -- du weisst nichts von Sonne und Tod,
Wendest die Augen zum Licht und zum Schein --
Schlaf, es sind soviel Sonnen noch dein,
Schlaf mein Kind -- mein Kind, schlaf ein!

Schlaf mein Kind -- der Abendwind weht.
Weiss man, woher er kommt, wohin er geht?
Dunkel, verborgen die Wege hier sind,
Dir, und auch mir, und uns allen, mein Kind!
Blinde -- so gehn wir und gehen allein,
Keiner kann Keinem Gefährte hier sein --
Schlaf mein Kind -- mein Kind, schlaf ein!

Schlaf mein Kind und horch nicht auf mich!
Sinn hats für mich nur, und Schall ists für dich.
Schall nur, wie Windeswehn, Wassergerinn,
Worte -- vielleicht eines Lebens Gewinn!
Was ist gewonnen gräbt mit mir man ein,
Keiner kann Keinem ein Erbe hier sein --
Schlaf mein Kind -- mein Kind schlaf ein!

Schläfst du, Mirjam? -- Mirjam, mein Kind,
Ufer nur sind wir, und tief in uns rinnt
Blut von Gewesenen -- zu Kommenden rollts,
Blut unsrer Väter, voll Unruh und Stolz.
In uns sind Alle- Wer fühlt sich allein?
Du bist ihr Leben -- ihr Leben ist dein -- Mirjam, mein Leben, mein Kind -- schlaf ein!

TEACHER'S RESOLUTION

Let me have an open door
In every hour of every day;
Let no child feel pushed aside,
Ignored, or hurried on his way.

Let me have an open heart
That work-blindness cannot close
For the child who lost a tooth, a dog,
Sheds tears, or has some bright new clothes.

Let me learn again each day
What every working gardener knows,
That planting seed and tending growth,
The patient gardener also grows.

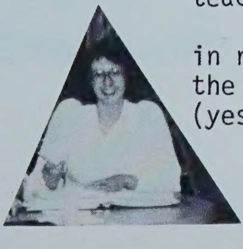
The Early Childhood Education Council (E.C.E.C.) is a student regional affiliated with the Alberta Teachers' Association and the Education Students' Association on campus. We are proud to be the largest sub-association in the faculty. Our aim is to improve practice within the specialty by increasing members knowledge and understanding.

This year we were able to hold five very successful general meetings. These informative meetings on puppetry, classroom environments, skirts and capes, outdoor education, and games provided members with the opportunity to discuss concerns with other students, faculty staff and professionals in the field. The council also produced a booklet Nits and Grits and Stuff to provide members with many practical teaching ideas.

On a less academic level, our council participated in numerous activities during 'Education Week" and won the Scavenger Hunt. Our year ended with a beer social (yes E.C.E.C. members do drink.)



THE ALBERTA INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

EXECUTIVE: (left to right)
Vice-Pres: Denis Duperron; Pres: Marko Mihajlovich;
Sect/Tres.: Gary Cornfield; Comm. Off.: Linda Berger

This year has been exciting and productive for A.I.E.S.A.. The Association continued with the usual services, benefits and activities including such things as:

Maintenance and expansion of the A.I.E.S.A. software bank
Production of our own A.I.E.S.A. yearbook
Inservice teaching seminar
Student representation on staff
Socials and Spring Formal
Sports Nites and Annual Skitrip

One area in which A.I.E.S.A. expanded was that a St. John Ambulance First Aid course was offered (particularly of relevance to future Industrial Education teachers). Also, an A.I.E.S.A. crest contest was held, establishing our new symbol, and orders were taken for jackets and crests.

All that was accomplished this year is due to the dedicated members in the Association who put much time and effort into making A.I.E.S.A. what it is today. Thank-you to all who made it possible. Thanks also to E.S.A. for their cooperation and support. Here's hoping that more people will get involved next year and that the Association will continue to grow and better serve its members.

SEE YOU NEXT YEAR!

S.E.L.A.C., the Secondary English Language Arts Council was formed in September of 1979 and has been extremely successful for a first year club. The purpose of the club is to create an informal atmosphere in which to share information, ideas, lessons -- and fun -- with Secondary English majors and minors. Along with inviting several guest lecturers to speak to members, S.E.L.A.C also held two wine and cheese parties, bringing together members of the Department of English, co-operating teachers and faculty consultants to socialize and exchange ideas. The club's major accomplishment was to win not only the Clubs' Combo held in March, but also the coveted Eddie Award for the performance of "Pigmalion, or My Swine Lady." The council wishes the best fortune to future executives. Our thanks to Dr. John Oster, faculty advisor and friend.

The Home Economics Education Students' Association was off to a fast start this year. After several summer meetings, the executive members hoped to be organized to a tee, when September rolled around. There were a lot of things to plan and this is what we did.

For the general meetings, speakers were asked to cover topics such as Program Planning, Job Searching, Student Teaching, Resources and Planned Parenthood. HEESA members were also guests at a number of informative workshops sponsored by the ATA Home Economics Specialist Council.

Certain needs became evident, so useful projects such as the First Year Survival Kit, Resource Envelopes, and the Software Blitz were developed for members.

Members were also able to enjoy University nite life and meet many new faces at our social activities, which included a bowling social, sports night, sleigh ride, and chile/beer, wine/cheese socials.

HEESA members enjoyed a well-rounded year and the members of the 80/81 term are wished the best in their future endeavors.

The B.E.S.A. is in its second year as an association. It has been successful in meeting its main objective of establishing better communication between students and educators. Through socials, workshops and guest speakers, the students have been able to share their experiences and to acquire ideas and resources from people within the business field. In addition to these activities, the association publishes a quarterly resource paper, the "BESA Update". On behalf of the executive, we hope that next year the association will have continued success.

D.E.M.A. (The Drama Education Major and Minor Association) is in its early stages of development and has only recently become a student association. During its 79-80 term, D.E.M.A. has sought to stimulate interest and involvement. We have had several guest speakers and groups attend our monthly meetings, offering their expertise in the field of drama education.

Our major project, this year has been a children's theatre production entitled Taradiddle Tales and Taradiddle Travels. A troup of actor/teachers toured various elementary schools and provided students K-3 with an opportunity to experience a play.

Other members also participated in the West Cast Conference held at the Edmonton Plaza Hotel, March 13 and 14. This group built and presented scenes dealing with the student teaching process.

In future, D.E.M.A. hopes to continue on a path of development, serving as a home base for drama major and minors.

"Hope" is the thing with feathers

"Hope" is the thing with feathers --
That perches in the soul --
And sings the tune without the words --
And never stops - at all --

And sweetest - in the Gale - is heard --
And sore must be the storm --
That could abash the little Bird
That kept so many warm --

I've heard it in the chillest land --
And on the strangest Sea --
Yet, never, in Extremity,
It asked a crumb - of Me.

-- Emily Dickinson

HE DON'T KNOW THE INSIDE FEEL

My teacher fish!
You must be screwed up, man.
A teacher? Hell
A teacher TEACHES.
He don't know the outdoor stuff.
He don't care.
He'd never walk by himself
Before breakfast
Across fields
Gettin his feet soaked
Just to fish!
He's a teacher.
He teaches.

He marks papers
Or he reads books.
He don't fish with no 2-ounce rod
And lay that long line easy on the top
Like this here ... Look!
Oh, man
Don't tell me he hears them wild birds.
He don't
He don't know the inside feel
Of white water rushin
Cold against his knees.
He don't know fishin, man.
Not like me.

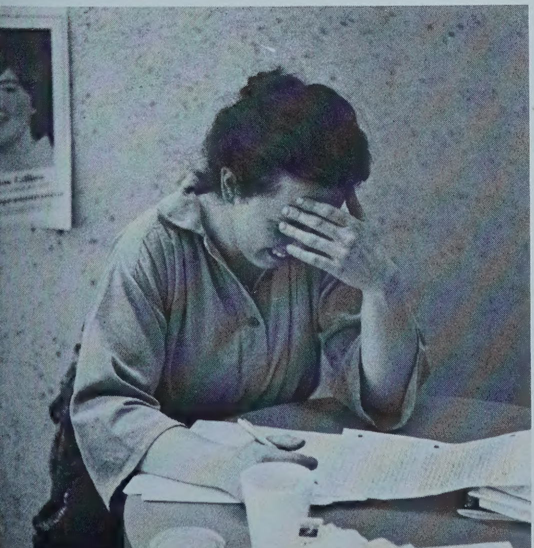
COME ON-GO AHEAD AND SMILE.



A GLASS OF BEER

The lanky hank of a she in the inn over there
Nearly killed me for asking the loan of a glass of beer;
May the devil grip the whey-faced [#@!%] by the hair,*
And beat the bad manners out of her skin for a year.

That parboiled apre, with the toughest jaw you will see
On virtue's path, and a voice that would rasp the dead,
Came roaring and raging the minute she looked at me,
And threw me out of the house on the back of my head!

If I asked her master he'd give me a cask a day;
But she, with the beer at hand, not a gill would arrange!
May she marry a ghost and bear him a kitten, and may
The High King Of Glory permit her to get the mange.

-- James Stephens [1882-1950]

SOCIALS*

 SOCIAL: 4. Marked or characterized by mutual intercourse, friendliness, or geniality; enjoyed, taken, spent, etc., in company with others, esp. with those of a similiar class or kindred interests.

The Oxford English Dictionary

I TASTE A LIQUOR NEVER BREWED

I taste a liquor never brewed --
From Tankards scooped in Pearl --
Not all the Vats upon the Rhine
Yield such an Alcohol!

Inebriate of Air - am I --
And Debauchee of Dew --
Reeling - thro endless summer days --
From inns of Molten Blue --

When "Landlords" turn the drunken Bee
Out of the Foxglove's door --
When Butterflies - renounce their "drams" --
I shall but drink the more!

Till Seraphs swing their snowy Hats --
And Saints - to windows run --
To see the little Tippler
Leaning against the - Sun --

-- Emily Dickinson

Хлопці, дівчата, відваго крилата!
Вам усміхається радість життя.
Діти надії, свободи орлята,
Вам променіють стежки майбуття.

В похід лаштуйтесь до правди святої,
Щастя дорогу в майбутнє мостіть,
Викуйте душу із криці міцної,
Розум і сонце в пісні покладіть!

Гілочки ніжні у вітті народу,
Корінь пускайте у поле наук,
Славу підносьте високо угору
Гордим хай буде і син, і онук!

ПРОВИНА

Я винний в тім, що світ не ліпший,
Не розумніший, ніж він є,
Хоч віддаю йому найглибше,
Найкраще почуття своє.

Я винний в тім, що правди слово
Ще в світі схоже на брехню,
Що може лиходій раптово
Міста й поля віддать вогню.

Я винний в тім, що розум схильний
Зір перед безумом схилять,
Що може в світі божевільний
Здобутком генія владать.

Я винний в тім, що й досі в світі
Сльозам дітей нема кінця,
Що, кров'ю на землі розбиті,
Ще обливаються серця.

Я винний, і нема хвилини,
Щоб я не пам'ятав про те,—
А ви, сучасники, провини
Своєї не визнаєте?

GIVE A LITTLE

Take a chance what've you got to lose
It's better than singin' the blues, it's your share waitin' everywhere
I'm really tryin' to tell you the news
(chorus)
Give a little care a lot, try to use the love you got
Someone's waitin' over there, waitin'
for someone to care
Won't you try 'n' see what you can do you see I'm talkin' to you
There's so much more, why are you waitin'
It's about time that you started to (chorus)
See what you've
See what you're given for once in your life don't be driven
To hide it away
(chorus)

Thank you
We wish to voice the thanks of this years grads to the grad formal committee for a very beautiful formal.

Miss Jones is
Mary's busy teacher.
She knows each child.
She knows the mothers and fathers,too.
Sometimes she goes to school in summer.
She has to know
many things. Today
she helps the children learn about turtles.
" I shall be a teacher
like Miss Jones," says
Mary.
" I will learn about children. I will help them want to read and write and count and work
and play together."
Mary says, " I will go to school and learn to be a good teacher like
Miss Jones

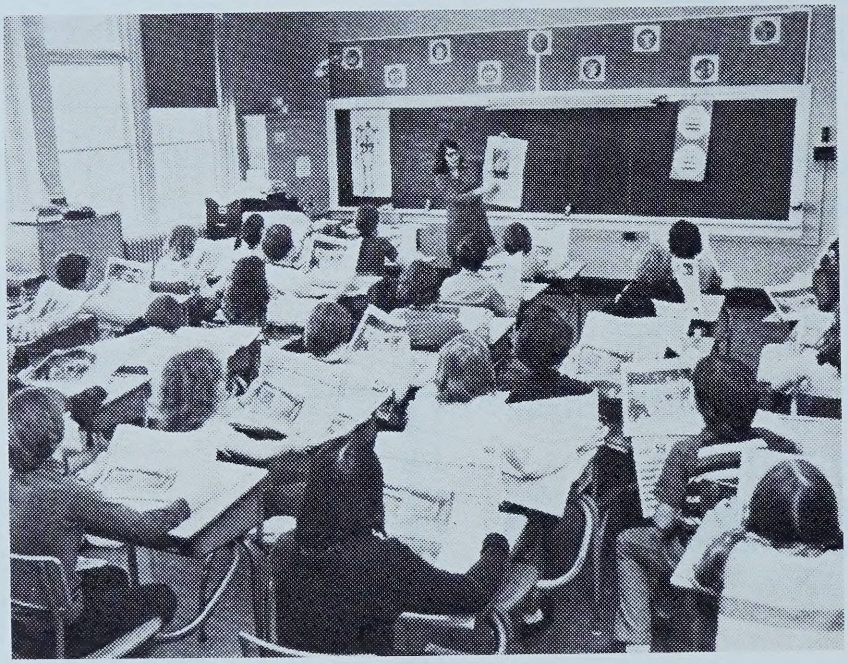
What in the World is happening today?



Sparked by progressive dedicated teachers, today's students are taking an increasingly active interest in the world at large. One way they are getting the information they want is through the classroom use of daily newspapers.

Daily newspapers are serving as a vital addition to the list of resources available to teachers. Within the pages of daily newspapers, there is current information relating to virtually every area of study. Subjects such as social studies, economics, science and geography are brought vividly to life in current news articles.

Newspaper reading also contributes to a child's grasp of language and improves writing, spelling, and English usage skills.

read your daily newspaper

Perhaps most important, newspapers can make children aware of the events and ideas which shape their world, helping them to become informed and participating members of society.

This newspaper offers special educational services to teachers in its circulation area. Teachers not familiar with these services, are invited to write or telephone for complete information.
